Consulting the legislation which governs food labelling during the first phases of a product idea is an essential starting point. It is an important function to identify whether 'limitations' apply to a product and the framework within which products can be designed.

FACTS also offers a comprehensive annual two-day regulatory workshop: "SA Food Labelling Regulations: All you need to know and where to find it" in August, which covers food labelling regulations in detail. Our guest speaker is Janusz Luterek discussing the CPA, CAMS and compliance.
